LETTER from the Editors

Dear Class of 2022,

It's us again. You might remember us harassing you constantly, reminding you to check your senior quote, pose for a photo, or vote for superlatives. Well, here's where it has gotten us. With your help, we have transformed 165 pages of blank space into the yearbook you see today. In a way, it's like when we first began high school. There were four years ahead of us, a world of stories to be written, and a trove of memories to be made. Now at the end of this journey, we have a fully painted picture and a fully written book.

We suppose when they hand us our diplomas, we're done here. What remains will be every laugh we've shared, every smile, every bright moment we've experienced. One day, perhaps not so far into the future, we will be memories to each other, stories, rather than the true people we encounter every day. We have attempted to inscribe these stories within the yearbook, so that when life has taken us down our own paths we can still experience these years that shaped us.

We would like to thank Mrs. Jorgenson, who has endured us these past three years. You have been the backbone to all our yearbook endeavors. You have always been there for us, and we are forever grateful for your encouragement and support! Thank you for everything you've done! We will miss you dearly.

We are honored to have gotten the opportunity to write your stories within these pages. Though our collective story has ended, each one of you will now go on to write your own story, to make your mark on the world. We are sure that each of your stories will impact the world in some beautiful and invaluable way.

Now, let's bring on those embarrassing school photos we had all hoped to never see again!

~ Sara DiCostanzo, Smritha Srinivasan, and Michele McCue

A Tribute to our Beloved Nurses

Mary and Megan are both an inspiration with their unbelievable work ethic and compassion! 'Irreplaceable' would be an understatement as they both have shown how they always prioritize others and the health of the RMHS community, which has continued to thrive during very difficult times due to their efforts."

The unsung ballad of school nurses is a woven tapestry of caring for skinned knees and stomach aches, orchestrating countless medications and EpiPens, chasing out of date physicals and up to date vaccinations, all the while triaging concerned parent phone calls, encouraging our unencouraged to get back to class, and playing the lead role in certifying that our school practices and its policies protect our community's physical and mental health.

No schools would run without the kindhearted and professional work of school nurses. This statement holds true in typical years, but even more so given the last two years, as we continue to collectively navigate a global pandemic, implement innumerous safety measures from testing to contact tracing to mask wearing mandates, and do everything we can on a school front to mitigate the spread of a disease which has taken close to a million people in the United States alone.

Ms. Mary Giuliana and Ms. Megan Quinlan, our RMHS nurses, represent the best in the business. With their unflappable personalities, expertise and thoughtfulness, they have led us out of the darkness. They have reassured students and staff alike that they are cared for and are an important part of our community. They have spent countless hours collecting pool testing kits, fielding panicked phone calls from parents and the community, recording every positive case and keeping us all feeling safe with an endless chain of communication.

In the words of the Reading Memorial High School staff who know them best, "Megan and Mary are an unwavering beacon of support, communication, consistency, and care". One colleague remarked, "You know you have an amazing school nurse when you text her on a Saturday morning in April of 2020 before the pediatrician is even open about your own children having symptoms and you get a phone call immediately." Despite the increase in responsibilities due to the pandemic, "Mary and Megan have never been anything but 100% professional no matter what is going on." Mr. d'Entremont adds, "Mary and Megan performed the greatest of herculean jobs throughout this pandemic in the nicest and politest way possible".

Patient, compassionate, knowledgeable, helpful, professional and supportive, Mary Giuliana and Megan Quinlan are an irreplaceable team at RMHS. Like shepherds tending to their flock, we thank you for all of the care you provide to keep our school community healthy and safe. We feel so fortunate to have you both as colleagues and we dedicate this year's yearbook in your honor.

Letter From Ms. Theriault

Jessica Theriault
Assistant Principal

To the class of 2022,

It has been incredibly hard to write this letter as I feel like I'm not yet ready to let you go. You have been here for four years, but it has not felt that way as you were remote for a significant portion of your high school experience. Over the past four years, you have had to demonstrate our core value of perseverance over and over again. The world has been through significant changes during your high school experience, and so have you. When you entered as freshmen, you were the quietest group of students I've ever worked with in my career. The transformation you have made as a collective group has been incredible to witness. During your senior year I've seen you passionately cheering on your classmates at games. I've marveled at your creative talents and academic abilities both in the classroom and at events. You've become the class with the most school spirit that I've ever witnessed. It has been my pleasure and privilege to see you grow from nervous freshmen to confident seniors ready to show the world what Reading Rockets are made of. As Henry David Thoreau said, "Go confidently in the direction of your dreams. Live the life you have imagined." I hope that your next journey is one of adventure, health, and happiness, and know that I will miss you very much.

Respectfully,

Ms. Theriault

PEP RALLY

RMHS' 2021 Pep Rally took place on Tuesday November 24th. The rally included performances from RMHS Choirs, Marching Band, and Cheerleading, as well as an appearance from the Robockets, and an exciting match of tug-of-war! The Pep Rally was a testament to our class' spirit and resilience, as it returned after a year hiatus.

At our annual Touch Down Tuesday event, the senior went up against the juniors in a game of flag footbal. The game involved touchdowns, tackles, and some help from their football team coaches. Despite the cold, after a good fight from both sides, the seniors bested the juniors.

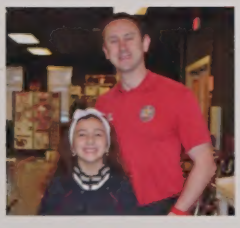
Misster RMHS



After 2 years, Misster RMHS finally made a comeback. Congrats to the winners, Pete Koster, Dionysios Georgopoulos, and Alex Shikhanovich! Thank you to Class Office, Class Advisors, and the judges for making the event possible!

kimball FARM

Sadly, our Junior Year we were not able to have a prom, but we were determined to still have some fun as a class! We went to Kimball Farm for the day, playing games, going on rides, and eating ice cream together! It is a day that we will remember forever!

Oh, darlin', don't you ever grow up
Don't you ever grow up
Just stay this little
Oh, darlin', don't you ever grow up
Don't you ever grow up
It could stay this simple

I won't let nobody hurt you
Won't let no one break your heart
And no one will desert you
Just try to never grow up
Never grow up
